At The Nelson Church Burnham Thorpe 2022

www.musicinthorpe.com

Making Classical Music available to all.

Music in Thorpe delights in making music of all genres easily accessible to all those who live in beautiful West and North Norfolk

The emphasis is on affordable concerts set in an informal and relaxed atmosphere primarily in the wonderful setting of this historic 13th century church; the Nelson Church in Burnham Thorpe.

Admiral Nelson's father, Edmund, was the Rector from 1755 to 1803 and

Nelson lived with his family at the old parsonage. There are no pews so the audience is able to sit around tables and enjoy a glass of wine while listening to glorious music.

Music in Thorpe is privileged to be working with the local primary schools in Burnham Market and Wells-next-the-sea. Special concerts and workshops are organised throughout the year where young children can listen to and talk to professional musicians and work with them in the production of live events.

Engaging with the wider community is also a goal and our Winter Music Supper Club attracts people to this famous newly renovated hostelry where they can enjoy fine dining in splendid surroundings while listening to a wide range of music.
